A project team meeting of the Taoyuan Project was held on October 28 to confirm the draft System Analysis and Design (SA&D) Report submitted by Mobigator. With the missing modules supplemented and the SA&D Report completed and circulated, the first 5% of the project payment (i.e. HK$33,500) was made to Mobigator on October 31, 2008.

Four to six doctors would be involved in the alpha testing in November to review and refine the requirements at the Mobigator's office. The project team will hold the coming meeting in December to confirm the prototype of the software. Mobigator will code the software based on the finalized design. It is expected that the software development will be completed by next February, when the beta testing will be conducted.
